Our Environmental Policy

As a small, hi-tech business we have quite a low impact on the environment already, however, we believe that real change must be driven by society and are keen to play our part.

We acknowledge our responsibility towards the environment, and we take this responsibility seriously by upholding the following commitments:

- We minimise the use of natural resources, in our case especially through electricity, heating and transport.
- We reappraise our situation periodically with the whole team to detect deterioration or potential for improvement.
- We travel to work by bicycle or public transport. If we have to use air travel, we try to achieve CO2-neutrality by donating via myclimate.org.
- To further improve our processes we intend to get official EMAS (Eco-Management and Audit Scheme) certification through the "Umweltpakt Bayern" programme. This is an environmental scheme run by the Bavarian regional government.
